Description

After toggling editing on and off a number of times the button stays held down and toggling takes longer and longer with the whole program being left as '(Not Responding)'.

I'm experiencing a similar problem when saving edits. This causes a real problem because I have closed the program after waiting for around half an hour which has resulted in a corrupted shapefile. I also have noticed the problem more when using relatively large point shapefiles (8000+ points).

Closing QGIS and reopening seems to be a short term fix but it's not ideal since it is sometimes unclear as to when the problem may occur.

Causes crash or corruption should be set to 'Yes'

Apologies, unsure how to change this.

#2 - 2014-12-17 09:12 AM - Giovanni Manghi

- Crashes QGIS or corrupts data changed from No to Yes

- Priority changed from Normal to High

- Status changed from Open to Feedback

- Category set to Digitising

Does this happen with any layer? of any type of datasource (shapes, postgis, etc.)?

#3 - 2014-12-17 09:25 AM - Charles Krolik-Root

I've only been using Shapefiles so I have only experienced this problem with them. Can't speak for other datasources.

Have you tried to run it with --noplugins?
This has previously been tracked back to plugins.
See #9229

Removing digitising-related plugins seems to have fixed the problem. Thanks for pointing me in the right direction.

#6 - 2014-12-18 06:13 AM - Giovanni Manghi

- Resolution set to invalid

- Status changed from Feedback to Closed
