Description It would be very useful if a user could set defaults for the edit widgets (and sound strange that it was not already asked, but maybe I'm missing the ticket or I'm just missing the way to achieve it). For example: if I choose the boolean widget it defaults to "unchecked" with no way to change this behavior. But even for the basic "text edit" widget it would be very handy to have a default for a specific field. The same applies to most of the other widgets.
