when creating a composer, show a sorted list of existing print composers

Easy fix?:	No
Description
Open a project with existing print composers. Open Composer Manager and add a new composer In the prompted dialog, the drop-down list shows the existing composers. It'd be nice to have this list sorted, using the name of the composer (like in the main composer manager dialog) and not, as it seems to be, its ID. It'll be more readable, I think.

Don't use combobox of existing composer names in new composer title dialog

It's odd UX - selecting any of these results in an error message, so giving them as choices is misleading.
