

QGIS Application - Bug report #14013

DB Manager: commit on versioned layers fails

Crashes QGIS or corrupts data:	No	Copied to github as #: 22026
Description  Currently the commit to the DB fails for versioned layers, because the original ID (which is not NULLable) is not filled (it must be done by hand, which is not nice). Presumably a function to copy the ID from the original one (for updates), or adding a new one in case of inserts, should be added.
