Hi,

I'm also testing master on both Linux and Windows and cannot see this. Could you try with no plugins? Does it happens with any datasource or just postgis?

Hi Giovanni, I've uninstalled all third-party plugins and tested a temporary scratch layer, but QGIS still freezes in the same manner as before. OS is Ubuntu 16.04 LTS.

tested also a temporary scratch layer here (Linux and Windows) and no issues. Could you try with a clean configpath/removing the .qgis2 folder? Thanks.

Unfortunately deleting the .qgis2 folder hasn't helped. The freezing issue still persists in master.

I cannot confirm but this means nothing. I'll leave the testing to others.
