| When importing multiple files in the 'DB-Manager' by D&D, the entered dropdown values and activated checkboxes get lost after each file (see screencast). An option to remember these settings may be helpful. |            |                                             |
