Description
My colleague came to me with this issue that he cannot delete vertices of a polygon residing in a shape file. After doing some tests I determined that is was because he was using ruled based styling on the layer. Steps to reproduce: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Create a shape file with polygon geometry type.2. Create a polygon.3. Try to delete a vertex. Should work.4. Undo the vertex deletion.5. Set the polygon layer styling to Rule based.6. Try to delete the same vertex. Doesn't work for us. This affects QGIS 2.18.0 and 2.18.1 (both x64 on Windows 7) but it seems to work in 2.19.0 (1d80925).

Well I tried again with 2.19.0 (commit:1d80925) and it doesn't work there either.

Cannot confirm here on the same platform. Please attach a sample project+data to allow try replicate locally.

- File polygons.dbf added
- File test_project.qgs added
- File polygons.prj added
- File polygons.shx added
- File polygons.shp added

Sure, here you go. I just cleared my .qgis2 folder to make sure it wasn't a plugin causing havoc on my QGIS installation - it didn't help.

It works fine in QGIS 2.18.1 with your data.
Worth creating a screencast as following the steps from the ticket does not replicate the issue.
