Description

Create a multi page layout with different size of pages
Right click on one page and select "Page properties..."
Set a background color: it's applied to all pages. Given that the rest of the information is about one page (obvious in case of multi size pages - see #17798), it looks weird to have that one applied to all the pages. It should be applied to the selected page imho.

Maybe we can have a global setting or a checkbox near the option (better imho) to allow replication to other pages.
