Description

I am a new QGIS user and I'd like to load a scanned map for geocoding.

The map is in a file on the desk top.

Launch QGIS

Click on icon add a raster layer

select the scanned .png map

error message as follows

"An error has ocured while executing Python code:

Traceback (most recent call last):

File "/home/labo/.qgis/python/plugins/valuetool/valuwidget.py", line 118, in printValue
```

```

```

```
[[UnicodeEncodeError]]: 'ascii' codec can't encode character u'\xe9' in position 25: ordinal not in range(128)

Python version:

2.6.2 (release26-maint, Apr 19 2009, 02:11:59)

[GCC 4.3.3]

The error message window is not closing except I close QGIS.

How could I manage this problem?

Hi,

what version of qgis did you used?

Can you attach here the raster that is giving you problems?

#2 - 2009-07-16 01:15 AM - Borys Jurgiel

This is because the Value Tool plugin doesn't support non-ascii characters occurring in the name or path of your file. So no more details are necessary ;-)

I'm contact the author to correct this issue. Please temporarily disable the plugin in the Plugin Manager if this message is annoying.

- Resolution set to fixed

- Status changed from Open to Closed

Seems that the plugin has been updated and now works fine. Reopen if necessary.
