Description  I like the look of the new snapping toolbar, but a great improvement for new or occasional users would be to either  1. allow the snapping options dialog to be opened from the toolbar (by a new button, or perhaps a right click on one of the first two buttons if that is possible), or at least  2. make it more discoverable, e.g. by changing the "Advanced configuration" text in the second button to "Advanced configuration (Project>Snapping Options..."
