Description
Hey everyone, Forgive me if this post is incorrectly issued, or if it is lacking information. This is my first time requesting info, and I am new to QGIS. I am currently following the training manual and am in Chapter 5 (Creating a Map). When in the Layout Manager to compose a view-able map, the labels for the 'places' layer don't render when I zoom out to set map to the size I want it. When they do show, it's when the map is too zoomed in and you cannot see it's full extent. This is because of the scale-based rendering setting I've chosen in the main program's labels rules for the 'places' layer. When I go back to my map to re-adjust everything, the 'places' labels won't show up when zoom out past 1:50,000, even if I set it to 1:100,000, or turn off scale-based rendering. Does anyone know why this might be happening?
