Description

User Feedback

I run QGIS in a remote desktop session, connecting to a virtual machine running Windows Server 2016. Most times I disconnect and reconnect to this session the QGIS instance crashes like this.

I thought it was the older vesion of QGIS I was using (3.2.3), but the machine administrator just upgraded to this newer version and still a crash.

I connect with Xtralogic RDP Client (Chrome browser extension) on my Pixelbook. QGIS is the only program that experiences this, so I suspect it is just the sudden change in some resource that QGIS depends upon.
