Description
The processing toolbox is becoming so massive, that it would probably be helpful for many users to be able to create some kind of "My favorite tools" section inside the Processing toolbox. Especially for less experienced users this might be helpful as Basic functionality could be just like with "Recently used" tools, but different tools could be added there manually (e.g. with a right-click). So a separate section on top of the processing toolbox list.
