

QGIS Application - Feature request #2568

More predefined color tables for raster maps

Description Unlike GRASS, QGIS does not yet offer relevant color tables in "Raster Layer Properties" - "Symbology". When showing [[GeoTIFFs]] etc without integrated color table (typical case), the map appears all grey. Having a set of predefined color tables would be a reasonable usability improvement. The GRASS color tables are simple ASCII files: https://trac.osgeo.org/grass/browser/grass/branches/releasebranch_6_4/lib/gis/colors and may be used in QGIS as well.

+1 !!!

this is an old request, see also #782. Requested by the vast majority of the (new) qgis users.

Add GRASS ramps

<http://soliton.vm.bytemark.co.uk/pub/cpt-city/grass/index.html>

would be really great.

- Pull Request or Patch supplied set to No

- Status changed from Open to Closed
- Assignee deleted (nobody -)
- Resolution set to fixed

A lot of color ramps (the ones available for vectors plus the ones available on CPT CITY, including the GRASS ones) for rasters have been added in QGIS master.
