Description

Following a mail in the users mailing list it seems that the plugins from "bc consult" cannot be added to the new plugins infrastructure. Those plugins (among them the very useful "1-Band Raster Colour Table V1.x") will be placed into this repo

No custom repos by default. All community plugin should go to the new repo, users can add other repos by hand.

ok I didn't get right that the external repos were going to be removed. So I guess that the right move would be really try add the plugins to the new infrastructure.
