Description  In the right-click menu that brings up the toolbars, there's one for "toolbox" (old sextante?). It has a cog icon Two things: a) The icon is slightly misaligned. b) Because it is a cog, it doesn't look like it is a selectable thing but some sort of column heading item for the thing below it. The checkbox needs to be there for it to conform to the UI standard being used by the software. Maybe have the checkbox, then the (properly aligned ;-) )cog, then the text.

- Description updated

Is this still an issue? I can't reproduce on any tested environments

#3 - 2018-03-01 12:28 PM - Giovanni Manghi

Please test with a recent QGIS release (2.18 or 3), if the issue/request is still valid change the affected version accordingly, if is fixed/implemented then close the ticket. Thanks!
