| Description | | |
| When you use Zoom last tool more than once it goes back and forward to the last two extents. It would be more useful if this button goes back to previous extent and next time you click it to previous previous extent and so on. Having a Zoom next button would complete navigation options, just like web browsers. | | |

I second this idea. QGIS needs to remember more than one of the previous view extents. Adding at least 10 extents by default might be appropriate.
